

I am a local attorney, and I created an online class for people representing themselves in family court. My goal is to make representing yourself in family court as easy as possible if you aren't able to afford an attorney. I have videos explaining how to complete the paperwork, calculate child support, file and serve the documents, and request a hearing. I would really appreciate it if you were willing to share on your website or recommend to clients that your legal services are not able to assist. I have made them as cost effective as possible so they are affordable to all who need them.

Here's a link to the course. I have one on emergency temporary orders as well.

I have a coupon right now too for 15% off all courses. The courses are very low cost (under $100 dollars) and have payment plans so they are accessible to everyone who needs them. The coupon code is BACK2SCHOOL.

If you have any questions please let me know!

Thanks so much,

Felicia
